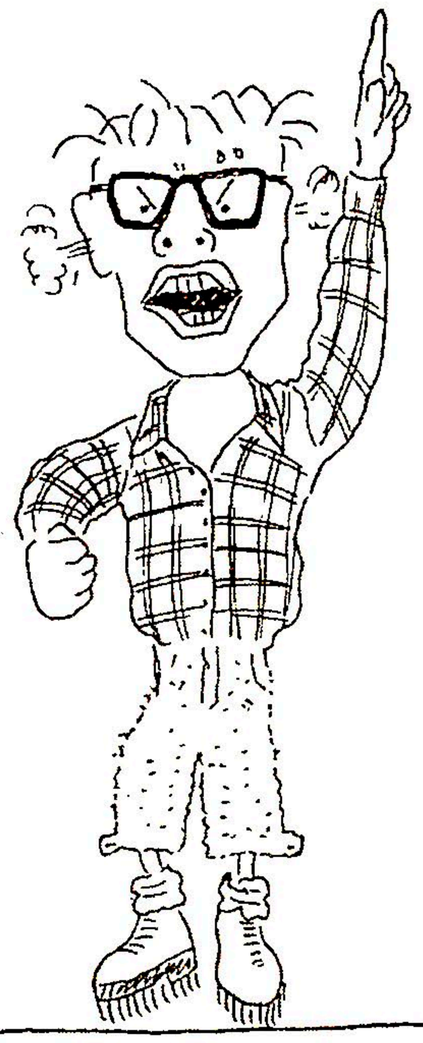
THE POKKETZ FASHION SHOOT

Craggy Clothes

To keep ahead of the times and working on the assumption that the warm weather must arrive eventually, we asked several clothing manufacturers to send us samples of their latest cool radical vestments. Then in a brainwave of outsize proportions we asked seven typical OTE reader-type-dudes what they would wear on their hardest climbs. Hey presto! A fashion feature.

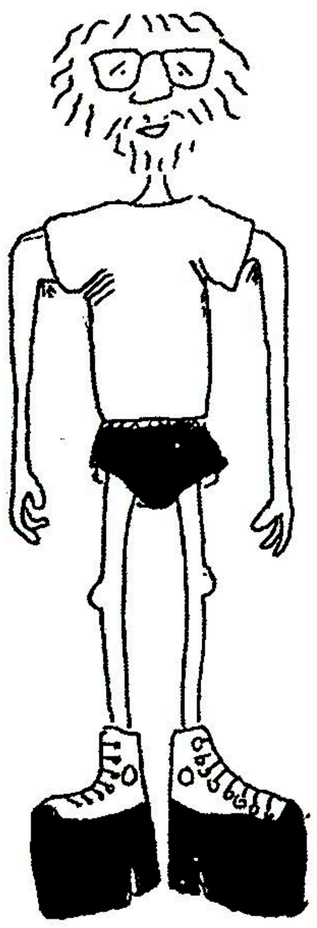
Ron is wearing a Super Collar Flowery Special (100% polyester) by 'Naffshirts' - £2-50 Patch trousers by 'Slender Loris' - £3-50. Hair by 'Starsky & Hutch' and rockboots à la Eric's Café, Tremadog



Angry young Ken has the new Chequed and Itchy range by 'Bumble Fashions' Shirt 4s 6d Breeches 7s 4b Boot Nails from Wickes 99p/100

Gritstone Guru Jon is wearing the latest warmwear by 'Afghan' - Oxfam 75p

Jon's sidekick Steve has a pair of the latest wide style leggings made from the finest gunge ridden, threadbare denim from the Skip at the end of the road. Hair by 'Echo Lard' - Safeways 68p



Pete says that tight T-shirts and shorts are in! - both items by 'Crapclothes' £2-50. He is also wearing the latest rockboots by 'Platform Rubber', the only company to take fashion and friction seriously.

Geoff is sporting a pair of these lovely "Abba Waterloo Guitar" sunglasses from the market 99p

Boldman Jon loves the artist look. His shirt is by 'Poncy Smoks' (from Wakefield Army Stores - £3-50) and is made from a wonderful new fabric called 'Cheese Cloth'

It'll never catch on. Everyone is after haute coiture these days.

A POKKETZ PRODUCTION © Alan James 1994
- thanks to Sean for the idea.